School Notes

School is away with a bang. Student have ordered their books, etc., and have settled into the routine of schoolwork once more, intent on the fact that they must work harder this year than last, if they are to get results from their schooling.

It will soon be time to elect a new staff of officers for the A.H.S. Literary Society. We miss our Literary meeting and hope to soon have them again.

Two or three children have now been hurt on the new tees that it would, no doubt, be much safer and more enjoyable if the children did not play so roughly.

The High School students are again playing softball, but not with their own bat. A borrowed one is now in use as the H.S. bat has not as yet been found.

Two new pupils have enrolled in Miss Mackie's room, making a total of ten new pupils this term.

With the exceptions of Art I and II, all the subjects have been started in the High School.

Believe it or not—We've been to school nine days. Just think that the 100 school days until examinations.

A number of the pupils are busy preparing exhibits for the School Fair. The prospects are that the competition for prizes will be keener this year than last.

Taxes—Who Is Responsible For Them?

It is an old saying, and true, that there are at least two things which no person in the world can escape—death and taxes. So far as the former is concerned it is inevitable; it may be postponed by rational living, by observance of the laws of nature and hygiene, by the exercise of the "safest" first principles, but, in the end, it cannot be avoided.

Taxes, too, are inevitable if orderly government, a properly organized community life, and essential public services are to be maintained, and this is the important thing, the taxpayers have within their own power to determine the size and extent of the tax burden they shall carry.

Begin a discussion of the subject of taxation and the chances are that one out of every ten persons, yes, ninety-nine out of every one hundred, will at once lay the blame for their unduly heavy burden upon Governments, either Federal, Provincial, Municipal, or all three combined. Governments, of course, are partly responsible, but the taxpayers themselves are even more responsible, and it is high time Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer realized this fact of their responsibility.

In the first place, the taxpayers are responsible for creating the Governments. It was their votes which placed the Governments in power. It is by virtue of the votes of the taxpayers that Governments continue in office to apply their policies, impose taxes, and spend the proceeds of those taxes, or, contra, are ejected from office. The taxpayers cannot escape this primary responsibility.

Secondly, Governments are constituted of groups of human beings, with all the failings of human beings. Placed in office they naturally desire to stay there, while opposing groups out of office just as naturally desire to get in. All these groups, therefore, angle for the support of a majority of the taxpayers, who are the final arbiters. If one group presents an alternative programme of public works, involving large expenditures, much employment, and consequent free spending of public monies, contrasted with a more conservative and economical programme advocated by an opposing group, and the people endorse the former, the latter group, then, again, it is the taxpayers who are responsible for the resulting large borrowings on the public credit, the creation of a large public debt, and the resultant heavy taxes to pay the charges on that public debt. The group in office may be responsible for proposing an unwise policy, but the taxpayers themselves set the seal of their approval to that policy and issued instructions that effect be given to it.

In the third place, there has never been a government entrusted with the duties of administering the business of all the people which has not been confronted with demands from the people that it do this or that, provide this service or construct that public work, extend financial support to this or that organization or that project. The cabinet of ministers, or municipal council as the case may be, may feel that the action urged upon them is unwise, but if the clamor is loud enough, and the demand of the taxpayers themselves urgent enough, they will, at representatives of the taxpayers and dependent upon their support, yield to such demands. The result is more and heavier taxes. Governments must accept some responsibility for yielding to such demands, when their judgment renders otherwise—there are times when it is the duty of Government to resist public clamor and refuse their demands, even when it means the defeat of the Government and the placing in office of another group which will carry out those demands—but the major responsibility rests upon the taxpayers, the voters.

Then these self-same taxpayers make bitter complaint because their taxes are heavy. They discover they cannot pay the taxes imposed upon them by reason of the very expenditures and borrowings they themselves insisted their Governments should make. When this is too late, because their obligations have been incurred and must be met, they demand that their taxes be reduced, or wiped out altogether. And when a responsible Government, entrusted with the preservation of the credit of the Dominion, a Province or a Municipality, declines to do this because it cannot be done honestly, and if done dishonestly would react to the further disadvantage of the taxpayers, then many of the taxpayers make the further mistake of listening to, and being guided by, other groups which promise to do what is being demanded. In his difficulty Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer is willing to jump out of the frying pan into the fire.

When the taxpayers make a mistake, either as individuals or collectively as a community, they must pay the penalty. If a child puts its hand in the fire it will suffer pain. There is no escape; it cannot undo its rash action. So, too, the taxpayers cannot tear up and repudiate what they have done, or their Governments, acting for them and all too frequently upon their own urging, and with the approval of the majority, have done for them. They must abide by the consequences of their action.

What they can do, and should do, is to set to work to remedy the mistakes made in the best way they can, and sternly resolve not to commit the same mistake again. A little more thought and judgment before plunging into expenditures and debt is the surest method to reduce taxes and keep them down.

A Silent Cannon

Innovation in Artillery Is Tried Out in Italy

A "silent cannon," which emits no smoke or flame may become an innovation in the Italian artillery.

The cannon was perfected by two Neapolitan engineers, Guglielmo De Luca and Ferruccio Guerra, former officers in the artillery.

Official trials of the gun were in the Ansaldo shipyard at Pussuoli, where a government delegate was present.

Others who witnessed the trial said the gun was entirely successful.

Progress Of Silk Industry

So Far Economic Disturbance Does Not Seem To Have Affected This Business

The silk industry of Canada has so far not been affected by any economic disturbance. In 1931 the value of production of the industry amounted to $18,187,492, an increase of $18,494 or 2.1 per cent. over 1930. There has been an increase in the Canadian silk industry from 1917 to 1931 of over 666 per cent in production, of 1,348 per cent in capital invested, and in the number of employees 961 per cent.

The silk industry of Canada is divided into two distinct branches, raw silk and artificial silk. The industry is located entirely in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, thirteen of the 23 establishments being in the former named province and ten in the latter. The principal items of production are broad silk or piece goods of real silk, of which 8,857,612 yards were made in 1931. Piece goods of artificial goods measured 4,073,434 yards; real silk in mixtures, 1,400,000 yards; and 4,353,339 yards of silk, artificial silk, yarns and threads and their mixtures were produced.

DOES DOWN HOUSE- WORK AT 70

With the Help of Kruschen

"For nine years now I have used Kruschen Salt and could not do without them. I take a third of a teaspoonful in a cup of water every day. I can drink it. No sickness, no headaches now. I am 70 years of age in April and keep my looking young. Kruschen Salt is able to do all my household work. I recommend it to all my neighbors. Before I began taking it I was never away from the doctor, but now I never need a doctor. I have to have less sleep and I am not able to do anything. Now it is different—thanks to Kruschen Salt." (Mrs.) J. G. Kruschenberg, the owner of the body working actively, cleanses all impurities from the system and sends clear, vigorous blood coursing through the veins. And the result? As to all of life's miseries and ills. No more headaches, dizziness, depression, constipation, indigestion, nervousness, or any of the other ailments of old age. Instead, a sense of delightful freshness, high spirits, happy outlook, and a new lease on life.

Soviet Food Industry

Results Of First Seven Months Of This Year Are Unsatisfactory

The work of the food industry to which Soviet Russia looks for its daily meals was called "unsatisfactory" by D. Levitin, member of the Politburo, in a report on the results for the first seven months of this year.

In spite of improved production in 1932, the Politburo has set prices adding greatly to the productive capacity, he said, the industry during the first six months of the year had produced for the same period in 1931 by only 6.5 per cent.

This, he said, was "quite insignificant." The 1932 figures of men "with no increase of 36 per cent over the production for 1931."

He blamed the result on bad management, a poor supply of raw materials and carelessness in many enterprises in taking steps to preserve perishables.

Prominent In Politics

Although there is only one lawyer in Canada for every 1,600 people, there is one lawyer in the House of Commons for every four members of other callings. The ratio in the senate is slightly higher and in the provincial legislature it is about the same.

These figures were given by Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing of the Supreme Court of Alberta, and presented to the Canadian Bar Association in an address on "The Position of the Lawyer in the Public Life of the Country."

But it came too late.

This is not a dissertation on suicide though there is much to be said on the subject. And if over we come to a place where we can look upon it unbiased, some startling facts will be revealed which are not all on the negative side. But rather let us look at this school life which is causing our young folk to die away with themselves.

To deal with the "last first." Evidently such a word of caution was a terror to this young girl. To be able to master the work of the school room gives little promise of success in later life. And more especially if interest and labor have been generously expended for ten months. To feel that one has not the ability is enough to lead to some desperate action.

To hurl the slams that the coming generation do not care is to confess lack of observation and to be grossly unjust. For most of us our parents saw to it that we were kept in Public School at least. Of course, there were some who were determined to get a training and succeeded in doing so. And to day there are parents who are sending their children to school.

Evidence direct from both the Federal and the Provincial capitals bear witness that there are children who are not giving satisfactory returns for the effort expended at home to keep them in school. And we presume that every High School could give similar examples. But today the children themselves are realizing better than ever before that in the years ahead it will be impossible to take a satisfactory position in life without adequate school training. The day of the self-made man never was and the future is crowding it further back than ever—Excuse the Irish but it's true. And to ask a boy to face the issues of manhood without the advantages which his chums are getting is to place a handicap upon him which may easily lead to despair.

Now there are many causes for losing a year at school—not liking the work, too little application in and out of school, too many days and nights off, etc. etc. Most of our teachers try and succeed in making the work interesting. There are few departments in which there has been more advance than in the theory and practice of the school room. Some of us would be keen to take work from the present day teacher when we think of the conditions twenty-five to fifty years ago. But there is one citizen that we could well be without and that is the one in or out of the school room who makes our young folk dislike school. The fault may well have been with Chaik himself. But it is a disastrous thing to fall on an examination and it is nothing short of a crime for any Department of Education to pluck pupils simply because there are too many of them coming up for examination.

WE ARE FOR NORMAN G. CARY

When Norman G. Cary proposed to establish a newspaper here it was our humble opinion that he would have the moral and financial support of every business man in Arrowwood. One has only to glance over this issue to satisfy himself that such is not the case. There are leading business houses here that have not spent one copper in advertising parlance, in printer's ink. Still, against these heavy odds, Norman G. Cary is struggling manfully on, trusting and hoping that he will get the support that he so justly deserves.

Take the advertising away from the Calgary Herald and even this great daily would cease to exist. How then, Mr. Arrowwood Businessman, we ask you, do you expect Norman G. Cary to carry on? Even in the face of this lack of support, he has seen fit to increase the size of his paper, and is determined with a tenacity worthy of a holier cause, to succeed. Now he is putting on a campaign to pay 60¢ cents per bushel for wheat, to increase his subscription list, so that the advertiser will get value received, and we predict that every farmer (basing our opinion on past performances) will rally to Norman G. Cary's support one hundred per cent. Let us all rally to the support of the Bow Valley Resource and give Norman G. Cary a chance to give us a publication of which we will all be proud and as better times come—as they will—we can point with pride and say "we are glad we supported this paper."
